

Research and Development Assistant

Door Stop International are looking for an enthusiastic individual to join our Research and Development Team

Main Duties will include

Product appraisal

Materials specification

Technical drawing production using AutoCad

Cataloguing and maintaining R&D project filing

Production of basic working models/samples

Contribute to costing models

Provide cover for CNC programming (with training)

The candidate must be able to communicate with internal and external sources, verbally as well as written/email.

Must be able to progress and complete tasks and projects independently to agreed standards and deadlines.

A knowledge of a controlled or test environment desirable

Working knowledge of AutoCad is essential (preferably 2 years experience), including formal file management and documentation records.

Basic Office skills, specifically Excel, Word and Outlook are essential.

Knowledge of SolidWorks is desirable.

Any experience of basic programming (CNC) is desirable.

Analytical approach to problem solving essential

Have a desire to increase skills, knowledge and experience.

Working experience within an engineering or design environment is desirable.

Education to university standard essential. Qualification within and engineering, materials or design discipline desirable.

Full time 37.5 hours per week

Salary up to 20k